Sword of the night

Great Sword

Description

Forged in shadow and quenched in the thirst of dying stars, the Sword of the Night is a blade that drinks the light around it. Its jagged form pulses with a faint golden glow that slashes through darkness like a dying ember in the void. This weapon is said to hunger —not for blood, but for essence— leaving foes with an unshakable sense of emptiness after a wound.

Scholar

Description

You have dedicated your life to the pursuit of knowledge—be it arcane, historical, natural, or philosophical. Whether you were trained at a grand university, mentored by a wise master, or self-taught in the dusty corners of forgotten libraries, your mind is your greatest weapon. Others may swing swords or cast spells with flair, but you shape the world with reason, insight, and understanding.

The Magic Club

Martial weapon

Description

Forged from a shard of sky-stone and etched with primal runes of might, this oversized club pulses with ancient, thundering energy. Said to have been carved by giants who mistook a meteor for a divine message, it holds a presence that demands awe—and fear. When wielded, it hums with power and confidence, as if it knows it's better than every other weapon in the room.
